Think about those phrases that sometimes stick in your throat to the point where they are often left unsaid and you will understand why we have so much trouble communicating with and understanding each other.

"I was wrong" is one of the hardest things to get out. Sometimes it is easy to say "I'm sorry" and other times it is darn near impossible. Many people would rather die or suffer alone than ever admit "I need help" and there are a few who choke on the words "thank you."

Of all the things that are left unsaid, the saddest unspoken words are the three most important—"I Love You."

Bev Cooper and Audrey Kline hope you will take time to see their wonderful display in Jim's Diner window for the upcoming Haunted House Oct. 23 and 24. There are four witch "Boo" brooms, two candy witch crates, one pump-can kitty, one electric ceramic ghost, and one electric ceramic pumpkin. Tickets can be purchased at Shep's Hardware, Wayland Ceramics, Almonde de Coiffures, or by calling 728-2839 or 728-2437 and are two for $1.00. All proceeds will benefit the United Methodist Church.

Jennette VanPatton caught Stephanie Zimbalist's wedding bouquet during her curtain call at the matinee performance of "My One and Only" in Rochester Sunday. The beautiful bouquet was live pink and white carnations trimmed with satin and ribbons! The Grein family reunion was held at Kuhner Hill Sunday. More than 50 family members enjoyed games and refreshments and everyone had a wonderful time and the weather was just perfect. One member said it was such a nice day she encouraged other families to plan such get-togethers periodically for such a happy and joyous occasion!

Monday, Oct. 5, parents of junior high students will have another opportunity to review and discuss movies popular with this age group at 7:30 p.m. at St. Joseph's. They will be considering two questions: do movies reflect society and families today, and, is this reflection distorted?

The United Cancer Council of Rochester will conduct a Smoking Cessation Clinic on five Wednesday mornings from 11 a.m. to noon in Sturmer Hall behind St. Pius Church in Cohocton. It will begin Oct. 14 and continue through Nov. 11. A tax deductible donation of $20 is requested but not mandatory. Register by Oct. 6 by calling St. Pius Rectory at 384-5500.

Visit Cohocton's Fall Kaliedescope this weekend. There will be dinners, concerts, soccer games, the flea market, tree sitters, and of course, a big parade. Check posters and ads for schedules of events.

Roberta Johnston has returned home and thanks everyone for their prayers and kindnesses during her recent surgery, especially her beloved Splashmasters.

St. Peter's Church in Perkinsville is busy planning its annual Election Day ham dinner on Nov. 3 and St. Paul's membership is working on plans and crafts for the Christmas Bazaar Dec. 5.

CSEA (Retirees) Group 907 of Steuben, Allegheny, and Yates counties, will meet for the annual fall meeting and luncheon Thursday, Oct. 8 at 10 a.m. at the Legion Hall, Hornell.

Nan Cownie will talk over "Family Fitness" with parents and grandparents of young children or any one who is interested and stops in the Wayland Library next Friday, Oct. 9, at 10:30 a.m. during Storyhour. This is the second program in the "Talk It Over" series presented by the Community Youth Services and Library boards.

Charley Leeson is the proud owner of the Shorty May Open jacket for a year. He won the event recently and though the weather was a bit threatening, everyone had a good time and a wonderful meal.

Several copies of the Wayland School yearbooks have disappeared from the library shelves again. If anyone has 1972, 1977, 1985, or 1986 edition they would like to contribute to complete the set, give the library a call or just drip them off. If you "borrowed" one and just forgot to bring it back, all is forgiven, just return it for others to enjoy. The books are in the section with other historical references and are not supposed to be removed. It is also sad to see where pages and pictures have been torn out of others. The library has a copier and would be happy to copy any pages you would like for a nominal fee.

Friends Unlimited will be making posters next week for a dance in October. Chicken Wired will play, it will be at the Legion on the 24th, and tickets are $2.00.

There will be much information pro and con presented to the public during the next month regarding the WCS renovation and building proposals and you will probably be confused by conflicting statements. It takes a lot of work to be an informed voter on any issue but it beats the devil out of hindsight. If, after reading all the information, you are still confused and have questions, don't hesitate to attend meetings, talk to school board members and staff, and call those with differing views. Confront the issues and get the answers and cast an informed vote!

Safe Driver Class Expanded by State

The safe driving pre-licensing course for new operators has been expanded from three to five hours, Motor Vehicles Commissioner Patricia B. Adduci announced.

Instruction on the consequences of mixing alcohol or drugs and driving will be expanded from one to two hours. "By including more information about the dangers and penalties associated with impaired or intoxicated driving, defensive driving tips and rules of the road, we can help prevent highway tragedies," the Commissioner said.

In addition to more information on alcohol, drugs and driving, the expanded course will feature more information on the use of safety belts, defensive driving techniques and the role of the individual driver as the most important part of the highway transportation system.

The maximum fee for the expanded course will be raised from $10 to $20, the first increase since 1982.

The course is given through licensed commercial driving schools and adult education classes at many high schools, with a curriculum and instructors approved by DMV. The course is required before a license applicant may make an appointment for a road test. However, it is not required for those who complete approved high school or college driver education courses, or drivers who exchange on out-of-state license for a New York one.

Education and prevention are as important to deterring drunk drivers as enforcement and penalties, Commissioner Adduci said. "New drivers should learn, before they get behind the wheel, that driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs is a no-win situation."

Question Box

Q. My husband recently died in the hospital. Will this disqualify me from being entitled to the lump-sum death payment?

A. No, the fact that he died in a hospital does not disqualify you from the lump-sum death benefit, $255. If you are receiving benefits on your husband's earnings record, you receive the one-time check automatically. If not, you'll have to file an application.

Area Student Gets College Study Grant

Shawn M. Gilson of Springwater has been named a recipient of a scholarship from the FEL-PRO Automotive Technician Scholarship Program.

This scholarship is designed to help students interested in becoming professional service technicians to further their educations, and to help meet the demand for qualified service personnel.

Gilson will use the scholarship to attend classes at Alfred State College this year.

FEL-PRO, which is one of the leading manufacturers of mechanical gaskets and chemical sealing products for the automotive aftermarket, has long taken an interest in the education of automotive technicians. This scholarship program, which awards money for use towards tuition to qualified students in college-level vocational/technical programs, is an extension of the company's commitment to improving the quality and availability of automotive service throughout the industry.

The grants are administered by the Citizen's Scholarship Foundation of America, an independent organization.
